AVIATOR AND PUPIL KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

CRAFT DROPS 2,000 FT. IN TRIAL FLIGHT

Herschleb, Wisconsin Rapids
Baker, Loses Control
in Tail Spin
MENTOR WAS WAR ACE
Manager of Aviation Field
Was Giving Passenger
His Fifth Lesson

By Associated Press
Westfield—Rellis Conant, of this city and W. E. Herschleb of Wisconsin Rapid, were killed here Tuesday morning when the airplane in which they were riding went into a tail
spin at 2,000 feet and crashed.

Conant is manager of a flying field
here and had sold Herschleb a plane
two weeks ago. Tuesday morning the pair went up for Herschleb's fifth lesson, and in some manner the student lost control of the machine and it went into a spin.

Those who witnessed the accident
say Herschleb must have "frozen"
the controls when the spin started,
and Conant found himself unable to flatten out the ship, which was badly wrecked, and both passengers were instantly killed.

SAW TRAGEDY
Manfred, Warshaw, employed by the airplane company, landed with another ship shortly after Conant
and Herschleb went up.

"I saw the plane go into a tail spin, and thought that Conant was instructing Herschleb how to pull out of it, but became puzzled when Conant
let it fall so far, and then realized that he was up there fighting for his life," Warshaw said.

"Conant has an excellent record as a flyer, having been a lieutenant in the army and accounted for two enemy
planes and a sausage
balloon during the war, and was by far too good a flyer to permit his ship to crash if he could use the controls."

"Frequently student flyers, when the ship starts to spin become frightened and hysteria seizes them. It's almost impossible to break their grip
on the controls, and that is what must have happened. Had Conant been able to use the sticks, he would have straightened the ship out."

negligence suffering a vessel of the navy to be stranded"; Lieutenant

charged with "culpable inefficiency
in the performance of duty"; Lieutenant Alexander S. Edward, the officer of the deck, who will be brought to trial for "culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty."

no dissenting vote to either bill.

TWO FRENCH AVIATORS KILLED IN CUP RACE

war aviator and his mechanic Jean Foucher, were killed early Tuesday
when their plane crashed soon after they had hopped off in an airplane
race in a military-cup competition.

TRIPLE WEDDING

CLAIM GRAFT IN DIVORCE MILLS

Two Providence, R. I., Lawyers Are Arrested on 26 Indictments of Fraud

By Associated Press
Providence, R. I.—Many couples illegally separated by a divorce mill
here have remarried, it developed Tuesday.

State Attorney General Sisson, who is directing an inquiry that has already resulted in 35 indictments, says
that the particular mill under fire parted persons legally, and that many of these have remarried or are about to.

It is estimated that no less than $25,000 has passed into the coffers of the manipulators of the divorce mill
the price being $2,000 a decree.

Leonard Horton and Francis P.
Dougherty, lawyers, are in jail as the result of the inquiry. Twenty-six indictments were returned against them
and they were unable to obtain bond.

While the Rhode Island law requires an uninterrupted domicile of two years before a person can obtain a divorce, Horton and Dougherty are credited with having used the address
of city parks automobile show
rooms vacant lots and the like as the homes of their clients.

GASTON MEANS READY TO ENTER PRISON AT ONCE

Washington—Gaston E. Means, a storm center in the Daugherty investigation and outstanding figure in many court actions, surrendered to the District of Columbia supreme court Tuesday and requested that he
be allowed to begin a two year prison term immediately.

NATION PAYS LAST TRIBUTE TO WAR HERO

President Coolidge Attends
Military Funeral Given General Nelson Miles

Washington—Washington stood with bowed head Tuesday to express the nation's tribute to one of its great military heroes, Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles.

President Coolidge arranged his affairs so that he might occupy a place in the funeral cortege signifying the country's reverence for the memory
and achievements of the famous campaigner.

A troop of United States cavalry,
an army of the service which the general led so well in wrestling the western frontier from the Indians, assembled at the residence to escort the casket to St. John Episcopal church, where the simple rites of that faith
were prepared by the Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston.

The solemn march to Arlington National cemetery, ending at the National cemetery, under the men's discussion constructed on the program of ceremonies. Battalions of soldiers, sailors and marines led by Brigadier General Samuel D. Rockenbach, commander of the district of Washington,
formed the escort of honor.

FOLLOW UP CASE
President Coolidge found his position in the procession with members of the general's family and his close associates, immediately behind the flag draped casket.

Veterans of the World war, the only conflict in the life of General Miles
in which he took no active part, mingled with veterans of the Civil war,
Indian campaign and the Spanish
war, who were there to pay homage
to their former leader.

At the south gate of Arlington a battery from Fort Meyer stood ready to honor the hero with a lieutenant general's salute of 15 guns. There the farewell service for the dead was in the hands of the military.

LAKES RUM RUNNERS ARE NEXT TO BE ATTACKED

New York—With Rum Row awning
day by day enforcement agencies
are getting busier and busier on land and sea. The general situation in New York state is indicative of greater disturbance than at any time since the enactment of the Volstead act according to R. O. Merrick, divisional prohibition enforcement chief. The next move is to cut off the runners now operating over St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes, he said.

From New Orleans came the news
of the closing of the old Absinthe
house, known the country over since 1824. Detroit is facing a dry cleanup, although Detroiters are not worrying
very much with the return of real beer at Windsor, Ontario, across the river.

BRYAN REPORTED TO BE CANDIDATE FOR CHURCH MODERATOR

By Associated Press
New York—William J. Bryan Tuesday is on his way to Columbus, O., to attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian church and become, it is reported, a candidate for moderator
on a strictly fundamentalist platform.
The commoner, whose speech at Brown university, Providence, R. I., which was broken up by hissing and boiling, was accorded a somewhat similar reception at one of three addresses on evolution that wound up the eastern campaign here Monday.

U. S. Not Nagging But Fears Debtors Have Weak Memory

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by Post Pub Co.
Washington, D. C.—The United States government has not assumed the role of prodding creditors. No formal note has been sent either as a circular to the powers or as a written demand to individual government which owe America money.

The department of state, simply acting in pursuance of authority
granted at the last meeting of the World war debt funding commission
before congress adjourned, has from time to time indicated to the various governments a desire to have payments consummated or negotiations begun. In a nut shell, Secretary Kellogg has merely kept the subject before
the various foreign offices.

The only thing new really is the summary given to the press of the efforts made to secure funding arrangements on war debts and also an official confirmation of the conversations between Ambassador Herrick
and Finance Minister Caillaux begun
a week ago and fully reported in Paris and Washington dispatches at the time.

The semi-official statements issued at Paris in the last 24 hours that no
note had been received there are correct. The truth is the American government is not using the same means of communication in every case. At Paris the whole matter has been handled informally in the talks which Ambassador Herrick has had by instruction of the American government
and there is reason to believe the French minister of finance asked Mr.
Herrick to get detailed instructions
for a general discussion of the debt situation.

There has been no meeting of the World war debt funding commission
since congress adjourned. The secretary of state has had for some time
general powers of negotiations and it has been left to his discretion to determine the opportune moment for reviving the subject with each country
owing money to America.

In the case of France, the United States held off for a long time because of the cabinet crisis and even now has made no demand but has simply indicated a desire to see something done.
The significant thing is that the administration here has let it be known that all countries which are indebted to America are being asked to keep the subject under constant consideration till a way is found to settle.

The American government, moreover, in pursuing the subject with Italy, Belgium, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Roumania is helping along the general cause of European credit because some of these same countries owe France large sums. If the United States can bring about a general payment all around, then all countries will be in a better position
to pay something on their war debts
than would be the case if delay and default were permitted.

The American policy works in with the British idea which is to persuade European debtors to make a start at least on a funding arrangement. It doesn't take much more than a hint
to the press to start a general discussion of war debts and the American government is hopeful that Europe will begin seriously to tackle the whole inter-allied debt problem.

While the Washington government has never conceded that German reparations had anything to do with the payment of debts owed to America by the allies, there is growing a recognition here that payment and a recognition of obligation are more vital to the future stability of the world than a drastic reduction or a cancellation
of war debts on all sides.

BELGIUM BOLTS DEBTOR ALLIES

News That Brussels Wants
Separate Negotiations Creates Optimistic Feeling

By Associated Press
Washington—The first break in the tangle of interallied debts was seen by high government officials
here Tuesday in the determination of Belgium to take independent steps in negotiating a refunding settlement
with the United States.

In official quarters the information conveyed from the Belgian foreign office in Monday night's dispatches,
was accepted as being highly significant since Belgium must be classed as one of the major debtors to whom the United States extended their claims.

The Belgian statement to the Associated Press created a feeling of optimism at the treasury. At the Belgian embassy it was said Tuesday
Ambassador Cartier De Marchand would sail for home June 2. The whole Belgian debt situation is expected to be taken up by him with his government at that time.

The statement that the ambassador was sailing for Brussels is believed to indicate that the officials in Belgium now see a more or less clear economic sky and are ready to let their government to definite commitments.

DECLARE FORD NOW BUDDY OF WALL-ST GANG

Official Denies Connection
With New Investment
Concern in New York

By Associated Press
New York—The connection of associates of Henry Ford with a New York bond house was generally hailed in financial circles Tuesday as meaning the manufacturer's entrance into Wall-st, yet from Detroit came
a denial that it had any such significance.

The newly organized Guardian Detroit company opened for business
Monday in the Equitable bldg. on Broadway near Wall-st.

One of the directors is Ernest Kanzler, vice president of the Ford
investment branch of the Guardian
Detroit company is announced as an investment branch of the Guardian
Trust company of Detroit, of which Edsel Ford, Henry's son, is a director.

The Guardian Detroit company has taken over the municipal bond business of Kean, Higbie and company of Detroit and New York, who will continue in business as underwriters.

NAMES OUT SHINGLE
The New York Tribune says:
Henry Ford has hung out his shingle in Wall-st. The man who denounced, defied and dispensed with America's most important financiers
has opened up an office in their stronghold.

In a denial that the Ford interests are entering Wall-st, Stewart L. Pittman, vice president of the Guardian
Detroit company, said in Detroit:

There is no truth in the statement that Ford interests are backing this move. Both men (Edsel Ford and Kanzler) hold similar positions with the Kean-Higbie company before its incorporation into the new company."

LAONA FOREST FIRES FANNED TO NEW START

By Associated Press
Laona—Woods fires fanned by a stiff breeze were assuming threatening proportions shortly before noon Tuesday. Several blazes that were said to be in a smoldering state Monday came to life, and one fire six miles southwest of the observation tower here was reported out of control.

National guards, whose order to return home was rescinded late Monday,
were out in force since dawn. Battery B of Green Bay was dispatched to the fire area near Wabeno. Sergeant Vir-liam Merry, of that unit sent word here at 9:30 that all fires there were under control.

The Rhineclander contingent is battling with the blaze southwest of here,
where farm houses and cottages along Stone lake were threatened as the flames communicated with valuable tracts of green timber. At 10 o'clock this fire was not under control.

ARRIVE AT RIFF FRONT WITH ENLARGED FORCES

By Associated Press
Rabat, French Morocco—General Bil-
lotte has arrived with heavy French reinforcements on the Riffian front in the Chechaouen region.

The troops began organizing strong defenses in this territory, which is directly menaced by concentrations of Riffians. The situation otherwise is unchanged, French headquarters announced.

MEETS KING

"Howdy, King, I'm from Iowa," said
John Cowie, of Des Moines, Ia.
(above), when he met King George
and Queen Mary at a fair in England.
The king was flabbergasted, but he smiled and shook hands with the Iowan. "And meet my son," said Cowie, introducing John Jr., to the royal couple. "I'm happy now," said Cowie, "I have shaken hands with the king and Jack Deppsey."

OMIT SEARCH OF VESSELS CLAUSE

American Delegation at Geneva Conference Succeeds in Killing Amendment

By Associated Press
Geneva—The amendment to establish the right to search ships suspected of conveying arms improperly was Tuesday eliminated from the proposed convention of the international conference for the control of traffic in arms and munitions. The American delegation led the opposition to the amendment.

It is hoped, however, that an Anglo-French accord will be reached soon regarding the disarmament tone
and that the council of ambassadors
can dispatch it to Berlin without much more delay.

Representative Theodore E. Burton,
head of the American delegation, said
the United States objected particularly to the indiscriminate search of ships which was implied under the provision. He asserted that the proposed searching of ships probably would result in misunderstandings and abuse. Because of this opposition
the conference decided to delete the amendment.

The arms conference also voted to abandon the proposed plan of a central board under the League of Nations to regulate traffic in arms
and munitions. The American delegation had opposed such a board.

SMITH INSURANCE CODE BILL TABLED IN SENATE

By Associated Press
Madison—The senate killed bill 175-
S, the insurance code revision bill,
Tuesday morning, 17 to 11. The measure, sponsored by W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner, and
which resulted in the proposed investigation of statements by Mr. Smith
involving Attorney General Ekern,
who opposed the bill, was indefinitely
postponed.

The roll call showed a division in the ranks of the administration progressives, eight progressives supporting the administration voted for killing the bill and seven against. Immediately after the vote the factions in the Smith-Ekern fight began rising
for the battle which shifted its scene
of action to the investigation committee Tuesday afternoon.

ONE OF TESTS IS BELIEF IN DEATH DECREE

Defence Indicates It Will Emphasize Credibility of an Accomplice

ONE WITNESS VANISHES

Prosecution Is Worried by Disappearance of C. C.
Faiman's Body Guard

Chicago—Efforts Tuesday to obtain a jury for the trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with murdering his wife's millionaire ward, William N.
McClintock, by administering typhoid germs, netted only lost ground.

Three veniremen locked up over night as jurors tentatively acceptable
to both sides were eliminated Tuesday morning, and left in the jury box at the noon recess were three men whose availability had been passed upon only by the prosecution.

One of the men named as tentative jurors over night was dismissed by agreement, one was removed when the prosecution exercised the first of its 20 peremptory challenges, and the third was eliminated when the defense exercised the second of its score of peremptory challenges.

Of a dozen men examined Tuesday
for prospective jury service, a majority was excused because of prejudice
against the death penalty, conviction
upon circumstantial evidence, or giving maximum weight to the testimony of an accomplice.

LEGAL EDUCATION
An "educational" sufficient to comprehend technical testimony involving chemistry, bacteria and poisons, is required of jurors who will try William D. Shepherd for the alleged murder with typhoid germs of his wife's ward, William N. McClintock, orphan millionaire.

Wanted also are those not opposed to capital punishment and who would not discount circumstantial evidence
nor the testimony of an accomplice,
for the state's chief witness is C. C.
Faiman, science school head, who confessed that he supplied typhoid germs to Shepherd and instructed him in their use for a promise of $100,000.

This was brought out in the questioning of a dozen veniremen, three of whom had been tentatively accepted as jurors and a fourth accepted by the defense when the opening session of the trial adjourned. One hundred and fifty more veniremen await the call to the jury box indicating to the attorneys that a jury may be selected in shorter time than was expected.

STRESSES HANGING

Examination of prospective jurors
also forecast the trial plan of prosecution and defense. The state stressed hanging on circumstantial evidence
the defense stressed the testimony of many of an accomplice, relying on breaking down Faiman's story.

Miss Isabelle Pope, fiancée of young McClintock, who waited at his deathbed with a license to wed him and who was given an $8,000 annuity in his will returned Monday from the Pacific coast to testify against Shepherd.

William Shepherd was led into court
at the opening of the morning session, his wife leaped to her feet and hugged him and kissed him.

DROP JUROR

By agreement of counsel for state
and defense, one of the three tentatively selected jurors was excused immediately after court convened, leaving only two left in the jury box, and the second day's examination of the jurors proceeded.

The disappearance of Robert White,
an important state witness, was revealed Tuesday by first Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman,
who expressed himself as perturbed.
He said detectives reported that White, a former employee of Faiman's National University of Science, by whom the state hoped to show that Shepherd had visited the school, had vanished last Friday, and that his wife and two children also had disappeared.

White was known as Faiman's former "body guard" at the school.

MUSIC, TALKS AT MEETING OF LEGION WOMEN

More Than 150 Persons Attend Conference of Ninth District Legion Auxiliary

One hundred and forty-seven persons, including delegations from the seventeen units in the Ninth district and the auxiliaries at Neenah, Menasha and New London, attended the luncheon which was given Monday noon in the Crystal Room of the Conway hotel in connection with the American Legion auxiliary convention. Mrs. Vogt of Oconto was the speaker and read a paper on the history of poppies, the national memorial flower of the legion. The poppy was adopted by the organization as the national flower in September, 1920, and Mrs. Vogt told about the enthusiasm of disabled soldiers in making the paper poppies for which they were paid one cent each. Many of them used the money they made in this way to help support their families.

The tables were beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers. Each president of the visiting auxiliaries was given a corsage bouquet. Mrs. R. J. Myse was in charge of the decorations. Music was furnished during the luncheon by Miss Lelia Boettcher, violinist and Miss Catherine Russell, pianist.

Mrs. E. C. Miller, district president called the convention to order at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Presentation of colors and saluting of the flag opened the program. "America" was sung by the assembly and the preamble was read in unison. This was followed by a prayer led by Mrs. O'Hanlan, and Mrs. E. E. Dunn, president of the hostess unit, delivered the address of welcome with a response by Mrs. Mathew of Lena. The state officers were introduced by Mrs. Miller and greetings were given by Mrs. E. E. Dunn of Appleton and Mrs. Frank Schneller of Neenah. Mrs. Miller gave a report on the minutes of the last conference, followed by a report by the treasurer, Mrs. F. D. Kirk. Mrs. Frank Schneller gave a talk on "Americanism" and Mrs. Oscar Adler presented two musical selections, "The Moon" by Logan and "The Echo" by Arditi.

At the afternoon session which was started at 2 o'clock with "pep" songs led by Mrs. Vincent of De Pere. Mrs. Ruth Sutton Doland, Columbus, state president of the auxiliary and H. J. Pettigrew, a member of the executive committee of the legion, were the principal speakers. Reports of committees and units were given and were followed by a musical program. Mrs. Adler sang, "Morning" followed by two selections, "The Earth is Decked with Beauty" and "Invitation" presented by a trio composed of Mrs. H. W. Meyer, Jr., Mrs. E. E. Dunn and Mrs. Oscar Adler. Two solos, "A May Morning" by Densia and "Thank God for a Garden" by Del Riga, were given by Mrs. H. W. Meyer. Mrs. Dorothy Pierce was the accompanist. At the afternoon session there were 158 persons present including 25 from Oconto and 24 from Lena.

10 CONTRACTORS SUBMIT BIDS TO PAVE 8 STREETS

Proposals Opened Monday as Low as Those Rejected by Council Last Spring

Bids from ten paving firms were opened by the board of public works Monday afternoon for paving eight streets or parts of streets left on the 1925 program. According to members of the board the bids were as low and in some cases lower than those rejected by the common council early this spring when property owners objected to long radii at street intersections. It is expected that the city will obtain very favorable rates on the paving scheduled for this year.

Bids were entered for six types of pavement. There are bitulithic, vibrolithic, sheet asphalt lake asphalt, concrete and brick. The first time bids were called for this year 19 firms responded. Changes in plans brought about by objections of property owners to long radii at street intersections caused the council to reject all bids and to advertise for new ones on the revised plans.

The board of public works now is tabulating the bids for presentation to the common council at its next session Wednesday night.

COUNCIL VOTES WEDNESDAY ON BIDS FOR PAVING

Eight Streets Are Left on Program Contemplated for This Year by City

Bids on the paving of streets included in the 1925 program were opened at a meeting of the board of public works Monday afternoon. There are eight streets or parts of streets left on the program out of fourteen originally included. These eight streets will cover about two and a half miles.

Water-st. S. Appleton-st. Johnson-st. Id.-st. W. Lawrence-st. and Wisconsin-ave. were stricken from the program leaving the following on the list:
Batemans-st. from North-st. to Pacific-st.
Cherry-st. from College-ave. to Prospect-ave.
Richmond-st. from College-ave. to Wisconsin-ave.
Law-st. from Wisconsin-ave. to bridge over Fox river.
John-st. from Walter-ave. to city limits.
Meade-st. from South-st. to Pacific-st.
Drew-st. from Pacific-st. to Brewster-st.
State-st. from College-ave. to railroad tracks.

The city has advertised for bids on four kinds of pavement, known as bituthic, vibrothic, concrete and asphalt. This was the second time that bids have been opened. The first time the bids were very low, but objections to the method of computing radil at street intersections caused the bids to be thrown out and new ones called for.

Several of the paving firms which bid the first time are said to have dropped out, but the number this time was practically the same as last time, because several new bidders were expected to enter the lists.

After the board of public works has considered all the bids and tabulations have been completed, the bids will be presented to the common council at its regular meeting Wednesday night, with the recommendations of the board. Then the board of public works will assess benefits and damages, and after notices have been posted and the proper time elapsed for the handling in of objections by adjoining property owners, the actual building operations can start. This probably will be accomplished by the early part of June, unless complications arise in the interim.

13 CASES SCHEDULED ON PROBATE DOCKET

TOOK TWO MEN TO LAND THIS BIG PICKEREL

Tales of the big ones that got away and the bigger ones that were caught and eaten, generally are subject to doubt and disbelief, but Wilbur Peters can prove his. Wilbur, with his father, Peter Peters, and George Peters went to Winnebago Sunday and fished in big Lake Butte des Morts off of one of the docks there. Young Peters was using a 5-foot steel rod and one of the stock plugs as bait. Feeling a strike he started to reel in, but when the reel started letting out line in spite of his efforts he decided that Jonah had lost control of his whale, and that the whale had decided to change its diet.

With the aid of a man who was out in lake lake with a boat and a net, Peters landed a pickerel 24 inches long by actual measurement, and weighing 8 1/2 pounds. The party brought the head of the big fellow along to substantiate the story, and will place it on exhibition in one of the shop windows here.

State trunk highway 55 which runs through Keshena and the Menominee reservation now is passable, according to Appleton motorists who have returned from the northern Wisconsin woods. The road has been under construction in that section for some time and workmen are still on the final stretches.

Historical signs telling of the old days and the sections of the highway which were designated by Abraham Lincoln as military roads from Fort Howard into the "wilderness," are being erected, the travelers said.

The land between Langlade and Mountain is recently forest fires and blackened stumps and hills laid bare to the rock on their sides give the country a desolate appearance for many miles. This, however, is made up by the beautiful spring scenery farther to the north and south, the local men said.

of final accounts, one hearing of proof of a will, and one hearing of petition for authority to convey real estate.

Petitions for administration have been entered in the cases of the estates of Hulda Becker, Mathilda Kurash and Charles Dengel. Claims against the estates of Richard Haas, Daniel L. Schulze, Heinrich Grapen-glesser, Ransom T. Puffer and Katherine Weimar will be heard, and likewise final accounts in the settlement of the estates of Frederick Gass, Theresa Geraughty and Henrietta Schoettler. Proof of the will of Augusta Mielchert will be heard by the court, and also a petition for authority to convey real estate in the estate of Charles Moder, Sr.

BRIDGE GIRDERS
SINK INTO ROAD

Workmen Have Difficult Task Transporting Steel Beams to New Bridge

Kaukauna—The first steel beam for the new $50,000 bridge to span the Fox river was moved to the bridge site Monday afternoon after an all day tussle. The beam, which is approximately 60 feet long, nearly five feet high and weighs about 10 tons, was brought up from the "flats" where the remainder of the steel parts have been placed, with one end resting on the body of a large auto truck and the other supported by a trailer.

The sand which has recently been hauled in to fill in around the concrete abutment was not packed sufficiently to hold the load. No sooner did the trailer hit the sand than it sank to the bottom. The trailer was jacked up and boards were placed under it and after the operation had been repeated a number of times the beam finally was put into a position where it could be handled with the derrick which has been erected for the purpose. The beam was ready to be hoisted into place Tuesday.

Two and three inch planks were cradled like kindling wood under the weight of the beam and it was not until five inch timbers were used that the efforts of the men were reasonably successful. The heavy beam was only the vanguard of what is to follow and it is certain some kind of roadway will have to be constructed. Other girders weigh as much as 25 tons it was said.

The question of coping with the sand is not the only problem to be solved. The trucks which carry the steel must cross the ancient plank roads in front of Tailmany and the Union Bag mill and it is said to be doubtful whether the trailers will stand the strain.

The groom's best man was Cyrilus Eimmerman, brother of the bridegroom, were groomsmen.

ENGAGE KAUKAUNA
GIRLS AS TEACHERS

Kaukauna—Two local young ladies were engaged teacher in Park school for next term at a special meeting of the board of education Monday evening in the high school offices. The ladies are Miss Beatrice Balgie, who is teaching at Fox Lake and Miss Germaine Schulte, fourth grade teacher at Iron River, Mich. Miss Balgie will have charge of the first grade and Miss Schulte will teach second grade. The action of the board Monday evening leaves only one vacancy in the public school staff that of physical culture teacher.

No decision has been made as to whether another teacher will be secured or whether William Smith will be relieved of his other classes to teach physical training in connection with his athletics.

The board members spent considerable time discussing insurance for the schools. The question of providing tornado insurance is under consideration but the board failed to make a decision. It is expected the matter will again be brought up at the regular June meeting.

PAVE SOLDIERS HOME ROAD IF RAILS ARE OUT

Railroad Commission Finds Waupaca Street Car Right-of-way in Bad Shape

Waupaca — Waupaca-co board of supervisors was called together in special session Monday as the result of a petition circulated by members of the board and signed by a majority of the body.

The most important issue to come before the board was to be that of road matters, principally the one from Waupaca to Wisconsin, Veterans Home. This road is now in bad shape and to repair it seems out of the question.

One obstacle in the way of early construction of a new road is the fact that the rails of Waupaca Service company lay along one side and cross the road in several places. The modern system of building roads makes it almost impossible to construct with the tracks in the places they are located. The traction company may discontinue the use of the line which has not been operated since fall and in that event the rails may be removed.

Mayor Pronto asked that the state railroad commission send a man here to look over the situation. It immediately sent Mr. Trainer who went over the route with the mayor. The mayor stated they found the road in bad condition, almost dangerous for operation of street cars even at slow speed. Many ties were decayed and could be broken off with the hands. Mr. Trainer reported back to the commission and it is expected that a hearing will be called by the commission very soon.

Circuit court resumed sessions Monday afternoon after a recess from Friday night. All criminal cases to be tried at this session have been disposed of and the balance of the calendar will be taken up with civil cases. The jury reported again to consider a few cases that require a decision by that body. Motions by Attorneys Leon Sauer for Dr. H. Fleischner and E. D. Smith for Arthur LaValley for the new trials for their clients who were convicted by juries during the present term, are in order this week and were likely to be heard Monday night.

Police Justice Peter Holst levied a ten dollar fine and costs on the following speeders caught exceeding the limit in the city within the last week: Louis Best, Fond du Lac; Herbert Carey, Manawa; A. A. Koch, Michigan; Ralph Greenwald, Fond du Lac; Evelyn Storer, Green Bay; Paul Tesse, Waupaca.

MONTE CARLO'S HIGH LIFE SHOWN IN FILM

The night life of Monte Carlo, with its gaming tables, its beautiful women, its tragedies, amours, and honey-moon romances all figures in Norma Talmadge's latest photoplay, "The Lady."

For Norma's new picture director, Frank Borzage, has combined real scenes taken in the Monagasque capital with studio reproduction of Monaco life made from photographs. The gambling rooms, the dance halls, "suicide terrace" and other well known spots in Monte Carlo all are shown with realistic fidelity.

"The Lady" was adapted to the screen from the famous stage play by Martin Brown. Much of the action takes place in the year 1900 and the

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, 26 Forbes-st. Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructs Schlicht Bros. Co. and Volz's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money.

gowns worn by the chorus girls and the fashionable women seen in "The Lady" were all designed from photographs taken in 1900.

The picture is proving particularly interesting to fathers and mothers who remember back twenty years, as well as to the flappers and sheiks of 1924.

DUAL ROLE AND THRILLING CLIMAX IN "IT IS THE LAW"

The management of the New Bijou Theatre announce a screen attraction of unusual merit and interest as the big feature there next Wednesday-Thursday. It is the William Fox special production of "It Is The Law," adapted to film form from one of Broadway's most recent dramatic successes of the same name. As a stage play it ran many months in New York.

"It Is The Law" is sheer drama with its theme based on one of those queer quirks of the law that ordains that a man cannot be tried for the same crime twice. Beside a thousand thrilling moments throughout the enactment of the drama, it has one of the most startling and thrilling climaxes ever written into any story for screen, stage or novel.

Playing the part of a blundering Englishman who is humorous to everyone else but himself and in an apparently unintentional way doing the right thing at the right time, he finds the stolen plans and saves his sweetheart from a marriage with the international crook in effort to save her brother, from whom the plans were stolen, from disgrace.

It is claimed that no funnier scenes have ever been filmed than those in which Griffith and Viola Dana are marooned out on a target, under gunfire of the Atlantic fleet, in a sinking dinghy suddenly lifted clear from the water by a rising submarine. A wonderful new dog star assists Griffith with his many antics.

News About And For Farmers

HIGH DEATHRATE. IN BABY STOCK CAN BE LOWERED

Greatest Care to Be Given Animals Is During Their Infancy, Says Report

Cutting down the high and costly deathrate among infant livestock is one of the farm problems for which the farmer must apply the solution himself. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine recently declared that less than 10 per cent of the farmers' problems can be remedied by legislation; the remaining 90 per cent can best be solved or approached for solution through the business of farming. The prevention of the high mortality among young stock is among the latter.

Before birth the young animal is in an environment where it is fairly well protected from shock, injury, and infection. It has practically a uniform temperature, and under normal conditions has an adequate and suitable food supply. But once launched into the world for itself it is surrounded with danger—infectious organisms; changing temperature, with storms, wind, snow, hail, rain, and extreme heat; the possibilities of inadequate or improper foods, overfeeding; and the presence of actual poisons of various sorts. The threat against an animal's life is greatest at birth.

Breeding from good stock is fundamental. But it is not practical to put off the problem until all the livestock in the country is purebred.

The causes of early deaths in livestock fall into three general classes:

1. Conditions little influenced by treatment: Malformation, extreme feebleness or extreme prematurity, certain accidents during birth.
2. Those capable of considerable reduction, chiefly through proper hygiene, sanitary isolation and medical treatment: Tuberculosis, acute respiratory diseases, certain acute contagious diseases, some forms of animal parasitism.
3. Those capable of a very great reduction through proper feeding, care, and sanitation: Acute gastro-intestinal disease, goitre troubles, prematurity (if not extreme), many forms of animal parasitism.

10 MILLION COWS UNDER T. B. TEST

Interest in Eradication of Bovine Tuberculosis Increases
Throughout Nation

The nation-wide drive to stamp out bovine tuberculosis now includes veterinary supervision of more than 10,000,000 cattle. A report just issued by the United States department of agriculture on the status of the work shows the following progress up to the first of April:

Cattle under supervision 10,201,492; in herds successfully passing the first test 6,777,624; in fully accredited herds 1,187,908; tested during March, 1925, 617,810; reacting to the test during month 19,841; on waiting list to be tested, 3,495,072; modified accredited counties, recognized as TB free 69.

Reports from various parts of the country show unusual interest in tuberculosis eradication on a county-wide basis. In the first three months of the year the number of modified accredited counties, those having less than one-half of 1 per cent of the disease, increased from 53 to 59. Veterinary officials of the bureau of animal industry consider that such progress is ample proof of the practicability eventually of freeing entire states from the disease. North Carolina already has 30 counties, officially recognized as free from bovine tuberculosis.

Eradication of the disease from cattle is the first step in removing the menace of tuberculosis to horses and poultry. The suppression of infection among livestock also likewise in the control of human tuberculosis.

LIVESTOCK STUDIED ON U. S. DEPARTMENT FARM

Miles City, Mont.—What is expected to develop into the world's largest experiment station for the study of livestock and range problems is now being conducted here by the United States department of agriculture.

The old Fort Keogh Military Reservation has been turned over to the department for this purpose. Soldiers' barracks are now occupied by farm laborers. The hay that used to feed cavalry horses is being harvested for beef cattle and sheep feeding experiments.

The transfer of this reservation was made for the purpose of experimenting in stock raising and the growing of forage crops, so as to help stockmen recover the losses they have been incurring lately from depreciated ranges.

The station covers 1,500 acres of grazing land and 2,000 acres of irrigated land. Two railroads and the Yellowstone Trail cross it.

Health courses for physicians are the latest innovation on the station.

Two Pig Litters Each Year Cut Hog Production Cost

Hog production costs are lower when two litters of pigs are raised each year than when only one litter is raised. Adding fall pigs to the production plan means a slight increase in feed and labor costs for each 100 pounds of pork produced. Other costs, however, are decreased chiefly because it is easier to save pigs at weaning time in the summer than in the spring. The economy of producing two litters a year is also shown in a lower necessary capital investment. Maintenance costs of the breeding herds are slightly higher when two litters are raised, largely because sows are on the farm for a longer time. On a monthly basis there is practically no difference.

These facts and many other interesting lights on hog production costs are brought out by the department of agriculture in a study recently completed on hog raising in Iowa and Illinois. Farmers in Henry-co, Iowa, and Warren-co, Ill., cooperated with the department representatives in making exact records of their hog production costs in 1921 and 1922. These counties are large producers of corn, hogs and cattle. Although the actual cost figures obtained in this study are out of date now, the methods of efficient practice that were revealed and the light thrown on sources of loss in the hog raising business have permanent interest.

Besides demonstrating the superior efficiency of the two-litter system, the study showed that there is a regular increase in corn consumed when pigs are fed to heavier weights. In other words, it took on an average, less feed to produce the first 50 pounds of pork than it took to produce the second, and less to produce the second than the third, and so on. Thus, to raise a herd of pigs averaging 125 pounds in weight took only 284.3 pounds of corn for each 100 pounds of hog. When hogs were raised to the average weight of 275 pounds, the amount of feed necessary to produce each hundredweight of hog was 405.2 pounds. Although the investigation did not entirely bear out the theory that the meat-producing power of feed declines in a steady proportion as animals are raised to greater weights, it did confirm the generally accepted idea that it progressively takes more corn to increase the weight of hogs as they approach maturity.

Reduced costs of production have obviously the same effect on profits as an increased sale price. This is strikingly demonstrated by the department in an analysis of effects of production costs on profits. Production costs varied widely on the farms studied. The cost in 1921 ranged from $3.07 to $13.55 per 100 pounds of hog. Profits in the lowest cost group averaged ($3.03 cents) for 100 pounds, compared with a loss of $5.27 per 100 pounds in the highest cost group. In 1922 the range of costs was from $4.58 to $10.02 per hundred pounds of hog. Farmers in the low-cost group made a profit of $2.96 a hundred pounds, whereas those in the high-cost group suffered a loss of $2.04 per hundred pounds. It was shown that each increase in costs means a distinct decrease in profits and a decrease in the return for each bushel of corn fed. A large influence in determining costs of production was the number of pigs weaned per sow. In droves that weaned only from two to four pigs per sow the gross cost was $5.56 in 1921, while in droves that raised from six to eight pigs per sow the gross cost of 100 pounds of pork was only $4.50. These costs were for herds producing one litter a year. A similar spread was shown for 1922.

ADVISE BIGGER ALFALFA CROPS

State Farm Experiment Station Urges Raising of Better Quality of Hay

Madison—Increased alfalfa production is recommended by the University of Wisconsin agricultural experiment station here to keep pace with its dairy industry. "With 30 years of steady growth, the dairy industry of Wisconsin now stands at the head in the production of cheese, butter, condensed milk and in the number of dairy cattle," it. A. Jones and L. E. Gruber, of the station, stated. "With all these great strides, however, the production of the right kind of home grown feed for livestock has lagged far behind. 'Clover which once supplied protein in abundance, is now a general failure. The cropping strain of 40 years or more has left the soil unfavorable to this old friend of the Wisconsin farmer. The soil must be fed with lime, phosphate and manure to bring back clover and to make a much better hay crop—alfalfa."

MONTHLY STOCK FAIR TO OCCUR WEEK EARLIER

Families from rural districts coming to town Saturday for the monthly stock fair will be able to make the occasion their own for two purposes, as this is also the day set for a meeting of the County Women's club.

The stock fair will be held one week earlier than usual on account of the fact that the month being May 1st day when all business here will be closed. The County Women's club will meet at the Appleton Women's club house on Harris st.

RAISE HOGS ON SURVEY BASIS

Farmers Can Stabilize Market
if They Choose, Says Agriculture Department

Washington, D. C.—The ups and downs of the hog industry, which farmers have got into the habit of expecting periodically, can be eliminated and the hog trade stabilized on a more certain basis.

This assurance is given American farmers by the United States department of agriculture, upon the studies made by its specialists.

Besides, reports the department, the hog industry can be stabilized without cooperation of foreign producers.

Heretofore hog production has swung from over to under-normal requirements. What the farmer wants is a method of gauging both hog production and marketing so as to level out the peaks and depressions and save the losses he has been incurring.

With the United States dominating the hog market, this regulation is possible, say government experts. Instead of basing their production on current corn and hog prices, farmers are advised to depend more upon the official outlook statements issued by the department of agriculture.

MAY PRICE OF MILK IS SAME AS PAID YEAR AGO

The May price of milk in Wisconsin, and other north central states shows practically no deviation from that of May, 1924, according to the May report of the United States department of agriculture. Prices paid producers for milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat range from $1.75 to $3 per hundredweight in these states, the average for May being $2.47, as compared with $2.48 a year ago.

Dealer's buying prices for raw milk are recorded at $3 per 100 pounds in Kenosha, $2.50 in Milwaukee, $2.50 in Racine and $1.90 in Wausau. Retail prices of milk delivered in bottles to consumers at principal Wisconsin cities vary but little from those paid in Appleton. Ten cents a quart is paid in Appleton, Beloit, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Wausau and Sheboygan Falls; 11 cents in Racine and 12 cents in Kenosha.

NEW VENTURE IN CHICKEN FARMS AT NEW LONDON

Charles Millard and E. F.
Ramm Establish Ranches
of White Leghorns

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—This city has two large chicken farms within its limits. Both were started about a month ago, with a total of 3,000 baby chicks and all of the White Leghorn variety, coming from the Farrow Hatcheries at Peoria, Ill.

The smallest ranch belongs to Charles Millard, and has 1,000 chickens. It is located on his home lot on Shawano-st. Mr. Millard also has a flock of 34 hens and 3 roosters, of practically every known variety. When asked why he invested in White Leghorns for his farm, Mr. Millard said:

"I've gotten White Leghorns because they are the best all-around chickens, both for eggs and market, that I know of."

Mr. Millard has one Brown Leghorn hen, which is 7 years old, "and hatching the molting season, lays a good sized egg every day. He plans to raise the White Leghorns, however, chiefly for eggs. He will make several large improvements in his grounds which will give greater space to the chickens when they are old enough to leave their house. The houses are kept heated with an incubator.

The other chicken farm has 2,000 White Leghorn chicks, and belongs to E. F. Ramm. It is located on the Ramm property at the end of W. Beacon-ave. Mr. Ramm is raising the White Leghorns because he also be-

FARMERS NOT GOING IN FOR SPUDS THIS YEAR

A decrease of about 50 per cent of the normal potato acreage will be believed them to be the best chickens both for market and eggs.

After they are hatched, he plans to mother them with hens. He also contemplates building up a small game preserve or fowl farm, on the property which would probably include ducks, pheasants, geese, and other fowl.

alized in this part of the state, according to a statement given out by the New London Farmers exchange. Many farmers, discouraged by the blight and the low prices of last season, will plant only enough for their own use. There were no potato shipments from New London this season, a most unusual occurrence for this city.

Some farmers have sorted over their stock three or more times, and others have been forced to throw it away or use it as fertilizer. The supply for shipping has been almost exhausted, and sharp rises in prices can be expected, it is said. On May 8 the price was 35 cents per hundred pounds, but jumped 15 cents that day. On May 11 another advance of 10 cents was recorded.

BAND INVITES 100 TO DINNER AND CONCERT

Mumm Hopes to Form Association in Interest of Building Up Organization

One hundred business and professional men will be entertained at a concert and dinner by 120th Field Artillery band at Conway hotel at 6 o'clock Monday evening, May 25, in order to stimulate interest in the band so that its work may be continued and the program for next summer enlarged. After the dinner Gustave Keller, Sr., J. L. Johns and Mark Catlin will present a general survey of what other cities are doing to maintain musical organizations and suggest ways and means for supporting the band here.

The Artillery band has been in poor financial condition for several years, according to Ed. F. Mumm, director, and it was only through the generosity of S. C. Rosebush that it has been possible to maintain it here. During the past three and a half years Mr. Rosebush has contributed nearly $3,000 for the maintenance of the band. The government has given the city a commission to establish clubrooms and equipment for the band, which will cost from $20,000 to $30,000, according to Mr. Mumm, upon the condition that the band be kept 100 per cent efficient musically.

It is Mr. Mumm's hope to form a large band association here, including all the prominent business and professional men of the city. If this is feasible artists of national repute will be brought here for the summer programs. Among those Mr. Mumm now has in view is Servatius DeSanto, first tenor of the Chicago Opera company.

Ride on GENUINE LOW AIR PRESSURE

IF YOU can cut down the air pressure in your balloon tires it will add just that much more to their cushioning effect.

Maybe you can't do this safely with your present make of balloon tires.

But you can with the new U.S. "Royal low-pressure Balloons—

Because—

These tires have the new U.S. "Low-Pressure Tread." This tread gives a much greater area of road contact than a round tread.

It distributes the load evenly over the tread surface and reduces the weight on the individual tread blocks. This does away with early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

U.S. Royal Balloon gives long service even at lower air pressures than have been recommended in the past.

For in addition to this new Low-Pressure tread they are built of Latex-Treated Web Cord. The only cord construction in which the cords are webbed together with pure rubber latex. This gives maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

Don't compromise on balloon tire pressures any longer.

Ride on genuine low pressure.

It will surprise you to know what a difference it makes.

COUNCIL ORDERS OWNERS TO TEAR OUT BUILDINGS

Fire Ruins on W. Wisconsin-ave Are Nuisance, Aldermen Hold

Neenah—Holding that the ruins of the W. Wisconsin-ave buildings destroyed by fire a few weeks ago constitute a nuisance, the common council at its meeting Monday evening ordered their removal unless the owners take action. It was decided.

Three new ordinances recommended by the planning commission were adopted. The city fire department was given the right of way over any other vehicle while on its way to a fire, in one ordinance. The first ward blocks bounded by East Wisconsin-ave, East Doty-ave, Oak and Walnut streets was placed within the fire limits in another ordinance.

The salary of the city engineer will be raised from $1800 to $2400 a year at the next meeting of the council. It is expected the engineer will give the council an idea of what is required of himself and assistants in working for the city.

First near the Third ward school is to be widened in order to allow proper parking space for the school and the gymnasium.

The city spent $3,612.11 since the last meeting of the council. Of this sum $1,702.82 was from the general fund and $1,909.29 from the street, highway and bridge fund.

"Water, water all around, but not enough to use" was the way in which Alderman Robert Martin placed the situation of a large number of property owners who have petitioned for water mains and have not been able to get the connections. Alderman Schmidt claimed that the waterworks department is working under a budget and that every person making application for a main is being considered.

After listening to E. E. Lampert and Olaf Myhre, who represented the Faust Paper Box Co. of Oshkosh, which soon is to come to Neenah where it will erect a $35,000 building in which to manufacture paper boxes and specialties, the council moved to go on record as willing to lend assistance to any manufacturing concern wishing to start here or move to this city so far as it can lawfully assist.

Jockey Cap Favored By French Girl

Paris—Disquieting news has come to the Rue de la Paix from London. It seems that French visitors to London are on the increase. So far, all right. But the thing that flutters the dressmakers' style-cotes, is the report that French women are going to London to patronize English shops.

The visitors are entertaining lavishly. Many take their private cars and servants with them. The migration is said to have no precedent, even in pre-war records.

Uncharitable persons may find material for caustic comment in the newest Paris millinery styles. The new hats give the lady of fashion the choice of looking like a jockey, or a jester. The woman who jockeys her husband, or whoever foots the bill, into paying for many of the new creations would seem at first blush to be no fool, however.

SIMPLE TRIMMINGS

The jockey caps are made of colored or black velvet, and trimmed over one ear. One hat shows a golden snail creeping, as it were, over the left ear. Hardly an apposite emblem for a jockey of a lover.

The clown or jester's hat is more popular. It has a high crown with trimming on its summit, or running up one side. It is made of felt, velvet, satin and panne; it rises to a point, or at the top juts out into a small fan, or sprouts feathers, ribbons, bows or a cock's comb. The narrow brim is pinched back to the crown on one side and pulled down over the ear on the other. The wearer polses it slightly tilted to one side and dents it here and there.

A purple felt hat is trimmed with a bright cerise feather. Over the crown of a brown velvet hat is a band of copper metal ribbon which acts also as a chin strap. A red velvet hat is stitched and pinched to form a perfect clown's snout with gathered folds at the top which look like stiff velvet leaves. Another crown is slit across the summit to have a ribbon passed through it and tied in a big bow. Black and brown hats are more popular in Paris than colored hats; for the south bright millinery is permissible.

NEW HATS DIFFICULT

Tonques and turbans are alternatives to clown and jockey hats. They are softer and less eccentric, and made of velvet or panne with or without a veil; they look dignified. Millinery in the large shops is very different from that of the Rue de la Paix, but is something easier to wear. Nothing in fashion is more difficult than the very up-to-date modern hat. It is so simple, so hard in line, so peculiarly honest, that it can only be well worn with clothes as perfect as itself. The slightly eccentric character of all fashionable hats makes them difficult to wear, and it is pathetic to see elderly women trying to buy hats in which they do not look caricatures. In all departments of millinery there is need of becoming middle-aged clothes.

The need of a hat that fits, that is light in weight and that can be worn with more than one dress, is obvious. To meet it there are only black or the dark brown felt or panne hats. The shape may be something which is neither clown nor jockey, but it is modeled on the same lines. With a sharp side, trimmings, these unobtrusive shapes look fashionable enough. As trimmings, ribbon and feathers go together or separately. Cords, pom-poms, shaving brush bunches of ostrich feathers, long-quills of felt, metal buckles, stiff bows and soft, which suit the wearer best.

USE ALKALI-FREE SOAP AND WATER TO WASH CHAIRS

To wash furniture, make a suds of alkali-free soap and soft water. Wash cross-grained furniture with this, rinse in clear water and wipe dry. Alkali will injure the finish of almost any wood. To clean oak furniture, wipe with a cloth dampened in turpentine. A cream made of beeswax and turpentine also may be used on oak. To make this cream, cover chipped beeswax with small amount of turpentine, place in an earthen jar in a pan of water and heat until the wax melts. Care must be taken in handling turpentine near a fire. Add turpentine until the mixture is thick and creamy. Apply to oak with a linen cloth and polish with a soft cloth.

For light woods, a cream made by covering equal parts of shredded beeswax, white wax and castile soap with turpentine. Heat until melted in an earthen jar by placing in a pan of water. Add an equal quantity of boiling water and stir constantly. Apply very little at a time with a soft cloth in a circular motion and finally rub with the grain.

White spots caused by allowing water to stand on a varnished or painted surface can often be removed by sponging carefully with a cloth dampened in wood alcohol. Scratched surface sometimes can be improved by rubbing with camphorated oil or raw linseed oil. To remove stains in furniture, place a wet blotting paper in the spot, then apply a hot iron to the spot long enough to allow the heat to penetrate the blotting paper and steam the wood. This causes it to swell and return to place. Ink stains can frequently be removed by using a soap suds. It is very likely to injure the finish, so sponge immediately with weak vinegar water and rinse with clear water.

POSTURE IS REFLECTION OF MENTAL ATTITUDE SLOUCHY GIRL NEVER BEAUTIFUL

BY S. MILDRED STRAUSS

No woman can be truly beautiful, no matter how perfect her features, unless she carries herself well and moves with grace and apparently without effort.

Beauty in motion is as important as beauty in repose. But to walk or dance well, you must first stand correctly.

Unless you stand so your height is distributed just where nature intended it to be, the chances are that when you walk you hump your shoulders, protrude your abdomen, or step on the inside of your foot. Eventually, by continued abuse of a certain set of muscles, you throw your whole body out of alignment.

In an effort to improve your posture, remember this:

Posture is to a very great degree the reflection of your mental attitude. It must be improved by changing the attitude of mind.

DROOPING MIND

A drooping mind directs a drooping body. A stiff, unwieldy body without softness or suppleness is merely obeying orders from a mind that is cramped and repressed.

A magnetic, vibrant and fascinating woman invariably carries herself well, while the negative type of woman inevitably slumps.

THE CORRECT POSTURE

Aside from the mental control, there is, of course, the matter of pure physical strength and the cooperation of all muscles through intelligent development.

Look at the two photographs and you will see what I mean. Here is the correct posture: Stand with the feet about two inches apart, one slightly in advance of the other, toes straight ahead, diaphragm up, shoulders down, head resting on the spine, chin in, knees loose, arms resting at the side.

The real burden of carrying the body falls upon the back, but it can not do the job entirely without the aid of strong ankles and feet and, since ankles and feet are so often neglected in the beauty program, we will consider them first.

SOME FAULTS

Here are some of the faults of standing that keep you from perfect posture:

Feet turned outward—they should be parallel when you walk or stand.

Weight on the instep—that causes flat feet and fallen arches.

Stiff knees—they keep you from being graceful and easy.

Try this exercise to correct the three difficulties at once:

Cross your feet so the little toes touch. Bring the heels together closely.

Raise on the toes as high as you can, then come down slowly. Repeat at least 25 times each day.

This will exercise the outer part of the foot and strengthen the arch under the ball of the foot as well as the instep. It will give you the springiness and lightness of step we associate with youth.

This exercise will keep your knees flexible.

Lie flat on your back with your arms stretched over your head and the body relaxed. Bring the feet into the air from the hips and turn so that the toe of one foot touches the ankle of the other.

In my next article I will explain other exercises that free the joints and promote graceful posture.

Household Hints

TO REMOVE STAINS

Lard will remove iodine stains but it must be allowed to stand on the fabric for a while before removed with soap and water.

BROWN HASH

To brown hash add two teaspoonsful of milk. Let the hash cook undisturbed until brown on one side, then fold like an omelet.

PREVENTS CURDLING

Add a pinch of soda to the tomato before combining with the milk for tomato liqueur and the mixture will not curdle.

tomato liqueur and the mixture will not curdle.

USE CAUTION

Never dry graniteware over a hot fire because the expansion may cause the outside to scale.

ADD SOME SODA

If the vegetables you are stewing

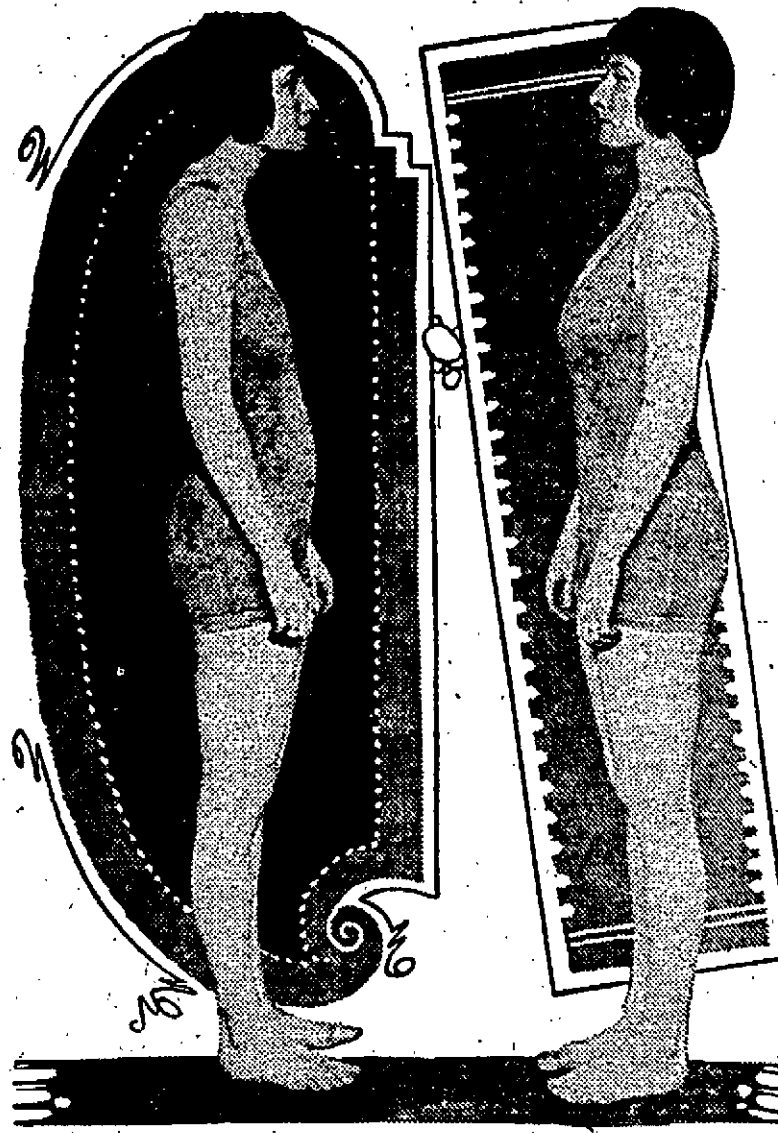

are a little old, add a little soda to the water in which they boil.

CLEAN FIGS

Dates and figs are apt to be dirty and need rinsing with boiling water before they are eaten.

USE FOR OIL

Good sewing machine oil can be used for oiling washing machines, sewing or sweeping machines or practically any household machinery.

THE INCORRECT AND THE CORRECT WAY TO STAND

The Tangle

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHON TO BEE SOMMERS, CONTINUED

"What's the joke?" asked Mr. John Alden Prescott in his staidest puritanical manner. He made me think of his mother and I laughed harder than ever, but, knowing that he should have a few things explained to him, I said:

"I am laughing at you."

Of course you know how a man hates to be laughed at. He was furious at me.

"I really can't understand, Mrs. Athon," he remarked coldly, "just why you should think it funny when I ask you to dine with me. I am lonely."

"I don't think it is funny. I think it is utterly and blatantly stupid. Can you imagine anything more ridiculous than for you and me to go out to dinner together tonight?"

He drew himself up and tried to look through me—he is tall and good looking—and cuttingly said: I fail to understand you."

"I don't expect you do. When you are angry you forget everything else, even the English language."

"But you went out to dinner with me in Albany?" he remonstrated.

"That was entirely a different proposition. You are well known in Albany. You have lived there practically all your life. Most people knew your vagaries. You did not hold such a responsible position. It was also known that I was a friend of your wife's. Here the eyes of the whole steel trade are upon you."

"Do you think for one moment that you could get away with anything of this kind without great consequence?"

"The fact that your wife is out of town trying to recover from her recent bereavement has been in all the papers."

"Stop and think what the sight of you and a red-haired vixen like me dining and dancing together while all the city knows your wife is grieving. Think what effect that would have upon your rivals in business, who are more or less jealous of your great luck."

"But I never cared for Leslie's sister. Why should I pretend to grieve?"

"That has nothing to do with this case," I sang slipantly. "As Poe Bah would have it."

"I didn't know you could sing," he said, changing the subject.

"Yes, they tell me I sing very well. But this is not the time for singing. Surely you must understand that you owe something to your new position if not to either Leslie or me. To be sent out with you now would ruin my reputation, break up my friendship with Leslie and hurt her dreadfully."

"None of these things do I want," His Highness was so angry he could not speak, so he stalked out of the room and slammed the door.

SHAMPOO YOUR HAIR TO HAVE IT BEAUTIFUL

"Would you have beautiful hair? Then it must be healthy and the first requisite is cleanliness, says a writer in McCall's. There's a right road and a wrong road, and you must shampoo your hair neither too often nor too seldom."

Keep in readiness a quart of dissolved soap—use a good pure soap which suits your hair—and have on hand a plentiful supply of towels. You'll find great comfort in a spray—an inexpensive one will do. A great deal of dirt and oil can be sprayed out with hot water before you pour over your head warm melted soap. Then with both hands work a creamy lather into your scalp. Rinse thoroughly and soap it again. With fresh water, growing gradually cooler, rinse until your final water is clear. "Hair dried by hand has a sheen and softness that artificial heat destroys. Call in wind and sun (never the direct rays) to aid you and be lavish with your dry towels. Turn your hair over strand by strand so that the sun may do his best. And then, for the brushing. There's no more important agent in the care of the hair than a good brush with long flexible bristles that get right through to the scalp. Grasp your

JUMPER FROCKS AND ENSEMBLES NEWEST MODES

The two-piece jumper, frock or blouse ensemble is the most important mode of the moment. It has a shirt-like top or blouse and a straight skirt with a kick plait at the front or at the front and back, or with a cluster of knife plaits of the side closing. It is the newest type of the sports frock that is used for general wear and is excessively smart.

The fashionable materials of the late Spring have taken violently to prints, borders, half-and-half effects, cross-wise designs and stripes. Roman stripes with orange, lemon yellow and Pompeian red mingled gaily with blue, green natural color and beige in flannel and in the smart tub silks, such as crepe de Chine, tulle and silk broadcloth, will have a tremendous vogue this Summer. Printed Georgettes and chiffons are quite the rage for evening frocks with points, cascade draperies, jabot effects, etc. For the street, natural-colored kasha and beige are very chic.

Jabots are one of the successes of the season. There are little jabots below V-necks, longer jabots that trickle to the waistline, and frock-length jabots that cascade from shoulder to hem. They are charming and show a softer side of fashion that gives just the right relief from more masculine styles.

Necks, after years of freedom, are heading themselves to yokes and collars. Tie collars flutter with loose ends or the snugly under the left ear. Small standing bands are used for peasant blouses and Chinese tunics.

The shirt-like collar belongs with the new jumper. The sports-shirt collar is worn with a four-in-hand. Flat collars and the small collar that frames the neck in back and opens in a V in front are used for all types of day frocks, while the bateau neck is being reserved more and more exclusively for afternoon.

APPLETON TRAINER MAY PROMOTE HORSE RACING

CALL FOR SUMMER SPORTS LEADS TO NEW FIELD HERE

Dr. William Madson, Veteran Horseman, Says Sport Now Is Nationwide

Appleton sport followers who mourn the loss of baseball here this summer may yet see some real sport this year and much more in the future, but not in baseball. If plans of Dr. William Madson, local trainer of race horses, go through, Dr. Madson, an interested sport follower, is planning on training horses for himself and any others who desire to replace baseball if enough interest is aroused in this city. He may conduct races here next year and intends to enter his horses in practically every meet and county or town fair around here this fall if they show signs of development.

English park is the scene of the new activity and a regulation half-mile track there is being put in good condition. It is not yet completed for real workouts, Dr. Madson said. Horse racing and training now is becoming nationwide and new stables are springing up all over Wisconsin. Oconomowoc and Madison each have a stable of 20 and Lake Geneva is building a new track this year. However, local fans must show an interest in the proposition to keep it going here.

The local trainer is working his horses daily and seeking to arouse enough interest to get others to bring their horses out. Anyone interested is invited out to the field to watch the work.

P-C BEATS BANKS TO HOLD TOP RUNG

League Leaders Squeeze Out 10 to 6 Win in Game "Featured" by Errors

In a game filled with errors the Post-Crescent softball team kept its record clean and remained in first place in the Twilight league by trouncing the Bankers Monday afternoon at Jones park by a 10 to 6 score. Both sides played good ball but showed plenty of errors with the Bankers having one or two too many to win the game. The league leaders led by five runs until the eighth inning when the Bankers, uncoordinated a rally that brought them to within two scores of the Post-Crescents.

Wagner and Wiseman both hurled nice ball and the work of Jacobson featured the play of the winning crew. He caught four men stealing second off the sack. McKenzie played a good game for the losers. Tock of the Bank crew clouted a three-bagger early in the game when two fielders missed his fly but was unable to score.

NEOPT INDIANS EVEN SCORE WITH ZACHOW

Playing a fine brand of ball until the tenth inning, the Zachow baseball team went down to defeat before the fast Neopt Indians Sunday afternoon when two glaring errors in that session handed the Indians two runs. The final score was 7 to 6. The game was played at Neopt. Zachow had copied the first game between the two crews.

The score was close the entire game, with a 5 to 3 tie at the close of the ninth frame. In the tenth Zachow copied a run and then with two men on the sack and shortstop took turns pegging the ball over the first baseman's head to allow two men to cross the platter with the tying and winning runs. If Radtke of Zachow, with two doubles and three singles in five bats was the hitting star of the fray. The Zachow pitchers, Neuman and Szymanski struck out six and four batters respectively and Tachette of the Indians got four via the three-try home.

Tilleda will be the next opponent of Zachow on Sunday. Batteries for the Neopt game were Zachow—Neuman, Szymanski and Radtke; Neopt—Tachette and Wankow.

The singles will be run off on Tuesday and the doubles on Wednesday. The Blue athletes will compete in both events.

Schools entered in the Milton classic are Marquette university, Beloit, Ripon, Lawrence and Milton colleges and La Crosse, Whitewater and Milwaukee normal schools. Marquette, with a team that is playing Big Ten contenders, off their feet, is favored to win the meet.

Buenos Aires—Luis Angel Firpo returned home after touring Europe and America and said he was willing to meet Jack Dempsey world's heavyweight champion.

Menasha and Neenah ball fans will have a chance to see real baseball with a capital R on Saturday and Sunday when two of the best teams in the west arrive in Menasha for three games with the Pais. The Beloit Fairies will play on Saturday and on Sunday the Racine Athletics will present the double attraction. The Saturday tilt is the first appearance of the Fairies in the valley.

With the Pais showing the stuff of the last few tilts with Kenosha, league leader, the game will be a real battle. The Fairies lineup includes several former big league stars and many who have played in world series. The twirlers from the state-line city, all of big league calibre, include Hippo Vaughn, former Cub star, Dan Tipton, Big Carl Cashion and Phillips. Garrity and Witte, catchers are real vets. Gharrity was a leading batter with the Washington Senators, quitting organized ball the year before Washington won the world title. One of his home run records was broken only two weeks ago by Ty Cobb.

The Beloit game will be called at 2 P. M. and the double attraction at 4 P. M.

DAVE'S DOTS AND DASHES

Menasha seems to have all the tough luck in the world. After losing a game to Kenosha on a ninth inning rally at the Pais city when it was apparently won a week ago Sunday, the Pais lost a great 2-0 tilt at Kenosha. The boys are playing real ball and deserve all the support that they can get. And that brings us to the hardest luck. The entire Twin Cities should be taken into court and charged with non-support. With a real ball team putting the town on the map by fighting games with the best in the west, the support is terrible to behold.

It is rumored that the Lawrence college profs are human enough to believe that revenge is sweet. After taking a trouncing at their own game volleyball, from the "kids" they seek more mortal combat and are making efforts to schedule tennis and horseshoe matches with the youngsters. Three of the men are experts with the shoes and the same applies to tennis. The tennis crew would include Mundhenke, former Blue star and 1925 net coach and several other former college players who still have plenty of speed.

Otto Borchert, wily old boss of the Milwaukee Brewers, tried to pull in trade with the Kansas City Blues last week, but even when the terms were all admittedly in favor of Kansas City to a great extent, Boss Muehlenbach of the Blues wouldn't bite. Guess he had enough on that last trade and thinks there must be some hook in Otto's trades no matter how favorable they seem. He traded three old vets for three youngsters and the vets are among the leading players of the league in many fields while the former Brewers are "not so good." The trade gave the Brewers "Bunny" Brief, home run king, George Armstrong, crack infielder, and Roy Sanders a hurler, for Frank McGowan, infielder, and "Ginger" Shinnault, catcher, old Athletic stars, and Eddie Schaak, a hurler.

Learn to Swim.

The man or woman, boy or girl, who can swim can use that knowledge in winter or summer.

Life saving is not a seasonal pursuit—a person is just as likely to drown in December while skating as in July while boating.

This is but one of the reasons why you should learn to swim, or increase your ability if you already know how. You can never tell when this knowledge will be essential.

The Washington Bureau of this paper offers for free distribution a new booklet on swimming and life saving. It was prepared by the American National Red Cross and contains instructions for beginners and advanced students, together with a number of swimming and life saving tests.

Send for your copy of the helpful booklet today. Enclose two cents in stamps to cover return postage.

SENSATION OF THE MAJORS

SAM GRAY

BY BILLY EVANS

Pitcher Sam Gray is the sensation of the majors.

Gray is a member of the Philadelphia Athletics.

He has won his first six starts.

Gray is a right-hander. He reminds you of Chief Bender and Jack Coombs, former stars of the Athletics.

Connie Mack, famous leader of the A's, says Gray is now as good as Bender and Coombs and has fine prospects of surpassing their greatness.

"Icicle Ike" is what the Philadelphia players call Sam Gray.

"Old Zero" is another monicker used by his teammates to portray Gray's absolute indifference to the most critical situation.

Nothing bothers Sam. It doesn't matter how many errors his fellow players make. It doesn't matter how many the umpire misses. It doesn't matter how many hits the opposition makes. Sam just keeps on pitching.

Most stars are a bit temperamental. Sam Gray is just the opposite.

Recently I worked a game between Cleveland and Philadelphia, in which Gray won his fifth straight. He would have scored a shutout but for errors.

The next day the Philadelphia players kidded me about a remark made by Gray which shows how obvious he is to the surroundings.

In one of the late innings of the game, after he had pitched himself out of a tight hole, he returned to the bench and remarked to one of the players:

"George is unipiring a fine game today."

"George who?" asked his teammates.

"Morlarity," replied Sam.

"Why that's Billy Evans back there," said the bench warmers in a chorus.

That's Sam Gray all over. Nothing bothers him. It doesn't matter who is calling them. Just so he is doing a good job of it. If he isn't Sam doesn't take any objections.

The latest star of Conle's long list of worthwhile performers works on the theory that his job is to pitch. He lets the umpires umpire and the players play.

And believe me Gray does quite a job of pitching every time he steps on the rubber.

In winning his six first stars Gray scored two shutouts, both over the New York Yankees. He deserved two others.

Gray has everything—great speed, a fine change of pace and a bewildering curve. As a matter of fact, he has two distinct hooks, the slow-twisting curve and the fast-breaking bender.

Gray has been pitching only four years. He is just a kid. Connie Mack figures he will be one of the most talked-about performers in the American League before the close of the season.

Connie doesn't make many mistakes.

GLENNA COLLETT WINS BRITISH WOMEN'S TITLE

Troon, Scotland—Miss Glenna Collett, won her match in the ladies' open golf championship today, defeating Miss M. R. Cox, the Welsh champion, by five up and three to play.

Miss Collett played brilliantly after the turn. She did not lose a single hole to the Welsh champion. Although her opponent seldom got a perfect shot, nine of the first ten holes were halved.

Taking the third hole with a par five after hooking her drive into a water filled bunker, compelling her to hit the American club to this one hole lead. After getting a biddle three at the 315 yard eleventh, she finished in an inspired manner with two more birdies and two par holes, which eliminated the Welsh champion on the fifteenth green.

CORNELL WHIPS COE IN FAST DUAL TRACK MEET

Mount Vernon, Ia.—Cornell defeated Coe in the fastest dual meet the Purple runners have participated in this year, here Saturday morning, 7:30 to 5:30. After Hooper and Captain Barbour took first and second in the century dash to start off the meet, Cornell never relinquished the lead to the Kohawks.

Eight first places in the ten running events gave Cornell a comfortable lead till Captain Gillespie and his Coe teammates began to heave the weights and jump in the field events. Cornell won her only first in the field when Miller set a new Cornell record as well as a old Coe-Cornell

White Sox Halt Athletics' Streak Of 9 Straight Wins

New York—Pitching luminaries of the Major leagues had lost some of their lustre Tuesday after retreating under another heavy shower of base hits. In the terrific batting outburst of yesterday, Veteran reliables were routed, with promising recruits carrying down with their defeats favored teams in both circuits.

The nine game winning streak of the Philadelphia Athletics was snapped after a desperate 14 inning struggle at Chicago as the White Sox hit opportunistly behind Thurston. Despite the 6 to 5 reversal for the American league pacemakers, however, Mack's men continue to maintain a two game margin on their closest competitors, the world champion Senators.

Five pitchers were called to the mound by the Browns in a fruitless effort to stave off defeat but Red Sox bats swung with effect against each to win by 12 to 7. George Sisker, Browns' playing manager, hit safely in his 33rd consecutive game, equaling the mark attained last season by Sam Rice, Washington outfielder.

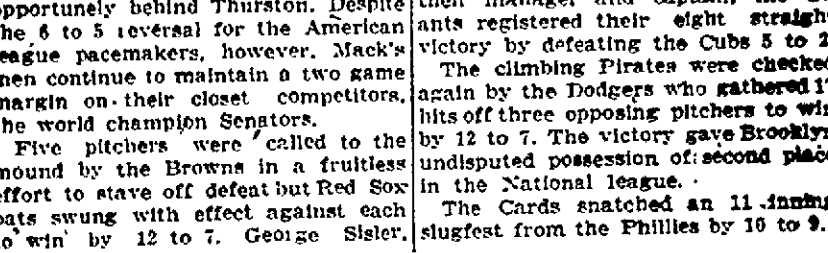

Dauess, foremost of Ty Cobb's arm weary pitchers listened to the music of Tanke bats for less than three innings and three pitchers who followed him cut their visits almost as short as the Yankees breezed notably through to a 9-7 victory.

Unmoved by the absence of both their manager and captain, the Giants registered their eight straight victory by defeating the Cubs 5 to 2.

The climbing Pirates were checked again by the Dodgers who gathered 17 hits off three opposing pitchers to win by 12 to 7. The victory gave Brooklyn undisputed possession of second place in the National league.

The Cards snatched an 11 inning slugfest from the Phillies by 10 to 9.

Baseball Simplified

By Billy Evans

When a preceding runner fails to touch a base and is declared out for so doing, does it affect the status of a succeeding runner who has made a home run, one or more being out at the time?

The rule says that such an act does not affect the status of a succeeding runner who touched each base in its proper order.

For instance, we will assume there is a runner on first and one out, when the batter hits to the deep outfield for a home run, scoring the runner originally on first.

Unfortunately the runner on first fails to touch second in making the circuit. The ball is thrown to that base, an appeal is made to the umpire and the runner is declared out.

That makes two out. The batsman who hit the home run touches each base in its proper order.

Until the wording of the rule was made definite, the contention in the past was that the batsman who hit the home run had technically passed the other runner on the base line, since he touched first base ahead of him and should be called out for so doing.

The new wording eliminates any such an argument and definitely says the act of the preceding runner in no way affects the status of the succeeding runner who observes all the rules.

Of course when there is two out and a runner fails to touch a base and is declared out for so doing, he renders of little use the action of a succeeding runner as far as scoring is concerned.

New York — Stanislaus Loayzo, Chile, scored a technical knockout over Tommy White, Mexico, in the seventh round.

GLASHEEN AGAIN FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING

Buchanan School Treasurer's Sentence Deferred Until Next Friday

Sentence was deferred until Friday when Michael Glasheen, formerly treasurer of Beaulieu hill school, town of Buchanan was found guilty late Monday afternoon by a jury of embezzling funds from the school district. It was the second time in three months that Glasheen was found guilty of the same offense. The first conviction was last February but he was granted another trial when it was found that court records were incorrect.

The verdict Monday was reached after an hour's deliberation and the jury reported at 5:30. Glasheen was placed in the county jail but Tuesday morning Judge A. M. Spencer deferred sentence until Friday and Glasheen was released on $1,000 bail.

Glasheen was found guilty of using $200 of the school's funds for his own purposes. He admitted taking the money but said he intended to pay it back. He declared that he had often used the school's money with the knowledge of other members of the board.

The verdict Monday was reached after an hour's deliberation and the jury reported at 5:30. Glasheen was placed in the county jail but Tuesday morning Judge A. M. Spencer deferred sentence until Friday and Glasheen was released on $1,000 bail.

Expansion of the religious day school and a religious census for Appleton were approved by Appleton Council of Religious Education at a meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. C. O. Davis, president, acted as chairman.

Dr. J. R. Denyes, director of the weekday religious school, appeared before the board and gave his ideas concerning enlargement of the enrollment. He said he believed another grade should be added and also voiced his hope that consent of the educational boards of the city could some day be obtained to hold classes there under the present plan instead of having the children go to another building. Members of the council will refer the proposal of enlargement to their respective churches to learn if they will provide an increased budget to pay what additional expense might be entailed.

Approval was given the religious census idea as a means of learning the church affiliations of the children of Appleton. This information will be obtained this summer under a plan which the council will adopt later.

GENERAL WEATHER
High pressure over the upper portion of the country Tuesday morning. Fair weather is reported from practically every section. Low temperature for the season was recorded over the plain states and middle and lower Mississippi valley, nearly to the Gulf of Mexico, but lower pressure moving along the northern border is causing warmer weather in the north. Generally fair weather and moderate temperatures are expected to continue in this section Tuesday night and Wednesday, there being no cause to look for any pronounced change.

Council Approves Expansion Idea and Arranges for Religious Census

Expansion of the religious day school and a religious census for Appleton were approved by Appleton Council of Religious Education at a meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. C. O. Davis, president, acted as chairman.

Dr. J. R. Denyes, director of the weekday religious school, appeared before the board and gave his ideas concerning enlargement of the enrollment. He said he believed another grade should be added and also voiced his hope that consent of the educational boards of the city could some day be obtained to hold classes there under the present plan instead of having the children go to another building. Members of the council will refer the proposal of enlargement to their respective churches to learn if they will provide an increased budget to pay what additional expense might be entailed.

Approval was given the religious census idea as a means of learning the church affiliations of the children of Appleton. This information will be obtained this summer under a plan which the council will adopt later.

WIFE THREATENED TO POISON HIM, HUBBY SAYS

A violent temper which made her extremely dangerous when angered, so much so that she was constantly threatening to murder him, caused Everett Brandow, 406 E. South River-st., to apply for a divorce from his wife, Lucinda, in circuit court Monday afternoon. He was given a divorce, $200 in cash, a Ford sedan and a division of the property and household goods, but was ordered to pay the attorney's and court fees.

On April 28, 1925, Mrs. Brandow threatened to poison her husband and he left their home to live in peace, he testified. His health was so impaired by her actions that he was unable to work, he said. She had often boasted of her good health, saying she could take care of herself better than he. Mrs. Brandow was unusually extravagant and her expenses ruined her husband, it was alleged. When they were married he had $1,600 in the bank but this was used up by Mrs. Brandow in short order, he declared.

The couple was married on May 21, 1921, at Menomonie, Mich.

PLEA FOR SMALL MILL AT NEOPIT GETS U. S. EAR

Congressman Schneider and Committee Will Make Personal Probe of Situation

United States interior department will send a committee to the Keshena reservation within two weeks or ten days to investigate conditions there, according to a letter received by Congressman George J. Schneider from Charles H. Burke, Indian commissioner at Washington, D. C. The committee will investigate various claims of the Menominee tribe as well as the petitions and complaints arising from the plans for the construction of a large sawmill at Neopit, to replace the smaller one which was destroyed by fire last year.

The Menominee tribe as a whole, Mr. Schneider said, is opposed to the construction of a mill larger than the old one, because in order to keep the new structure going full blast more white labor would have to be engaged, and the stands of timber available on the reservation would be exhausted too rapidly.

50 YEARS SUPPLY
It is estimated that there are about 1,000,000,000 feet of timber standing on the reservation. The Indians are allowed by the government to cut 20,000,000 feet a year, and at that rate it would require 50 years to exhaust the supply. If a large mill is constructed, the annual allowance would be cut in approximately eight months, the Indians say, and for the other four months they would be out of employment. For that reason they oppose the building of the new structure at Neopit. The standing timber at Keshena is said to be the finest east of Washington and Oregon, and about 50 per cent of the labor employed in the mill and lumber camps is white.

Mr. Schneider quoted a report of Congressman E. E. Browne of Wau-paca which the latter read to congress at Washington when the bill for the allotment of lands to the Menominee Indians came up before congress recently, stating that there was approximately $1,350,000 in the treasury which had accrued to the Menominees from their timber holdings and mill. Mr. Schneider stated that in reality the amount in that fund last February exceeded $3,000,000. There are 1,570 members in the Menominee tribe, he continued, and if they were allowed possession of their lands and funds every man, woman and child in the tribe would be rich.

ALLOTMENT DEFEATED
The allotment bill was defeated in the house of representatives, the congressman said, and died when congress adjourned, but will be brought up again. This bill provides that 80 acres of timber land be allotted to each Indian on the reservation, to be held in trust for 25 years by the government. The government would receive the right to cut all marketable timber off these lands within the 25-year period, after which the allottee would be given a patent.

This would leave $2,360 acres on the reservation after the allotments had been made, Mr. Schneider said. The congressman stated that most of the Indians themselves opposed the bill, although Congressman Browne had told the house that the majority had voted for it in tribal council.

He said that three delegates of the tribe who had voted for the bill in Washington, had done so without the authorization of their tribe. They had been sent to the national capital to attend to other tribal matters, Mr. Schneider said. The Indians told him, but had been influenced to make the statement they did by an outsider.

BELIEVES IN SLOW CUT
The Wisconsin lawmaker voiced the opinion that the government should not cut more than 50 per cent of the timber on the allotments. He said that this would be an injustice to the Indians, for the land would have little value to them as cutover land.

Congressman Schneider also said he intended to bring up another bill to grant the claim of Mitchell Osken-anew, a Menominee, for $5,000 for services to the tribe. This claim has been in the files for years, although Commissioner Burke practically admitted its validity, and it is cases of a similar nature that are keeping the Indian discontented, Mr. Schneider stated.

Congressman Schneider will accompany the committee on its tour of investigation to Keshena, he said. He considered the sending of the committee as a sign of hope for favorable action, and expected a settlement in the near future.

MAILMEN WILL SPREAD FOREST FIRE ALARMS

Prevalence of forest fires throughout the country has caused the United States postal authorities to order rural and star route carriers to cooperate with state and national forest officials for the prevention of the flames.

To this end carriers will report all fires to the nearest forest official, or to men designated by the forestry department to receive such reports. This measure is expected to be especially effective in areas where rural carriers travel through long stretches of uninhabited country, where a fire might get a strong start without detection.
